

NOV 1 1958

Approved For Release 2005/01/05 : CIA-RDP75-00149R000700200013-2

25X1

Three Retiring Generals Honored at Fort Myer

Army Major Generals Patrick J. Ryan, Chief of Chaplains; Herbert M. Jones, adjutant general, and Robert A. Schow, assistant chief of staff for intelligence, were honored yesterday at a retirement ceremony and retreat review at Ft. Myer.

Chaplain Ryan, retiring with 30 years service, served in combat with the Third Infantry Division in North Africa in 1942, and with the Fifth Army in Sicily and Italy in 1943. He was named Chief of Chaplains in 1954.

Gen. Jones, retiring after 40 years, was adjutant general at Supreme Headquarters in Europe and deputy adjutant general here before being named Adjutant General last year.

Gen. Schow, retiring with 40 years service, held the top intelligence post at Supreme Headquarters, Allied Powers, Europe, from 1951 to 1956, and served as assistant director of the Central Intelligence Agency.